From the Principal's Desk

As many of you know, Helping Hands Before and After School Care was introduced at our school in response to strong feedback from our community. I implemented the program to support working parents and carers, providing a safe and engaging environment for students outside of regular school hours.

Since returning to Gladstone West State School this year, I have noticed a rise in incidents during before and after school care that are being brought to the attention of class teachers, school staff and myself. While we understand these matters are important, they fall under the responsibility of the Helping Hands team.

I kindly ask that if your child is involved in an incident during Helping Hands, you please address the concern directly with the Helping Hands coordinator and staff. They are best placed to investigate and resolve issues that occur during their care.

Only if you feel that the matter cannot be resolved through Helping Hands, please bring it to my attention. We respectfully request that classroom teachers not be approached regarding Helping Hands incidents, as this impacts their workload and ability to focus on teaching and learning during school hours.

Thank you for your understanding and ongoing support.

Prep Playground

Reminder to parents/carers the prep playground is not to be used after 3pm with children. Teachers are still working and planning. There have been several times children unsupervised in this area. Once 3pm bell goes please leave school grounds.

Premiers Reading Challenge

I am delighted to invite all Gladstone West State School students to join in the 2025 Premier's Reading Challenge (PRC).

The PRC is not a competition but a way to encourage students to develop a love of reading for life. Students are encouraged to select a range of fiction and non-fiction books suited to their reading ability and record books read during the reading period, from 6 May to 22 August. Each student has received a reader record form to tally book read throughout the challenge.

To complete the challenge:

- Prep to Year 2 must read or experience at least 20 books
- Years 3 and 4 must read at least 20 books
- Years 5 to 9 must read at least 15 books.

Experiencing books can include shared reading, listening to stories, or reading picture books. The aim for the 2025 challenge is to encourage students to make time to read. Last year saw more than 216,000 children from around the state participate.

Book suggestions are available on the PRC website:

<https://prc.median.com.au/BookList>

Every student who completes the challenge and returns the completed record reader form will go into our weekly parade prize draw to win a book prize and will receive a Certificate of Achievement.

Classes are encouraged to work for a class prize (75% participation) 1st-3rd prizes up for offer.

I look forward to seeing as many of our students as possible take part in the 2025 Premier's Reading Challenge.

If your child wishes to participate in the PRC, please retain this letter for your records and return the completed record reader form to the class teacher by 22nd August.

NCCD - Nationally Consistent Collection of Data

Dear parents and carers,

Re: Nationally Consistent Collection of Data on School Students with Disability (NCCD)

Every year, all schools in Australia participate in the Nationally Consistent Collection of Data on School Students with Disability (NCCD). The NCCD process requires schools to identify information already available in the school about supports provided to students with disability. These relate to legislative requirements under the Disability Discrimination Act 1992 and the Disability Standards for Education 2005, in line with the NCCD guidelines (2019).

Information provided about students to the Australian Government for the NCCD includes:

- year of schooling
- category of disability: physical, cognitive, sensory or social/emotional
- level of adjustment provided: support provided within quality differentiated teaching practice, supplementary, substantial or extensive.

This information assists schools to:

- formally recognise the supports and adjustments provided to students with disability in schools
- consider how they can strengthen the support of students with disability in schools
- develop shared practices so that they can review their learning programs in order to improve educational outcomes for students with disability.

The NCCD provides state and federal governments with the information they need to plan more broadly for the support of students with disability.

The NCCD will have no direct impact on your child and your child will not be involved in any testing process. The school will provide data to the Australian Government in such a way that no individual student will be able to be identified – the privacy and confidentiality of all students is ensured. All information is protected by privacy laws that regulate the collection, storage and disclosure of personal information. To find out more about these matters, please refer to the Australian Government's Privacy Policy (<https://www.education.gov.au/privacy-policy>). Further information about the NCCD can be found on the NCCD Portal \(https://www.nccd.edu.au\).

If you have any questions about the NCCD, please contact the school.

Kind regards

Damien Hoare

Last week, Savannah in year 6 received a special award from Gladstone Regional Council for her Australia Day artwork. Her submission was chosen to be a part of an annual artwork exchange with Gladstone's sister city, Saiki City and was on display at an exhibition in Sakura Hall earlier this year. Congratulations Savannah!

2025 Physics in Flight

On Wednesday 4th June, we had two teams attend the 2025 Physics in Flight at Toolooa State School. The students had to make paper planes and measure how long it remained in the air. Our Team 1 came away with the overall Primary School win.

Senior Sports Day – Results

On Thursday and Friday last week we held our annual year 3-6 sports day. It was a jampacked couple of days with running, field events and activities for students to participate in. It was great to see so many students participating and having fun. Thank you to the parents who came to spectate over the 2 days.

Gladstone West were lucky enough to have some special guest athletes to run the 100m dash with some of our year 6 students. Thank you for coming in to join our sports day, the students enjoyed the challenge to race some of our local Police officers.

Our track events (100m, 200m, 800m and 1500m) along with our field events (High Jump, Long Jump, Shot Put and Discus) saw 6 shining athletes who took out age champion for their age group. Big Congratulations to those students. I would also like to acknowledge the students who were runner up to the age champions.

Little Learners Love Literacy

Yasmin yak

Roxy rabbit

This week in our literacy lessons we met Yasmin the yak and Roxy the rabbit. We identified the first sound in Yasmin's name as /y/ and the first sound in Roxy's name as /r/.

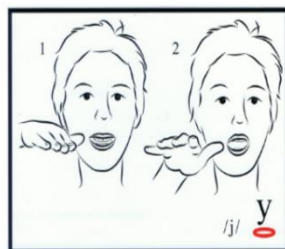

Yasmin's name begins with the sound /y/. To make the sound /y/, we make a wide smile, lift our tongue up and turn our voice on.

Roxy's name begins with the sound /r/. We say /r/ by turning our tongue into a mountain and sliding it back. Then we turn our voice on and push air out.

Talk to your child about Yasmin the yak and Roxy the rabbit. For example, at the dinner table, ask your child: 'What actions might Yasmin like to do?' (Say words that begin with /y/; for example, yawn, yarn, yap, yank.) Ask: 'Would Roxy like to sleep or rest?' (Give two options, one of which starts with /r/.)

Practise writing the letters y and r with your child at home. Remember to say the sound as you write!

Continue reading the Little Learners decodable books. If your child gets stuck, ask them to decode (sound out and blend). Avoid telling them the word or encouraging guessing. Fluent reading is not expected – it comes with lots of decoding practice and teaching. Look in the back of each book for guidance, including some questions to talk about, and Speed Words to build fluency.

The sides of my tongue are pushed against my teeth.

My voice is on and the air comes out my mouth.

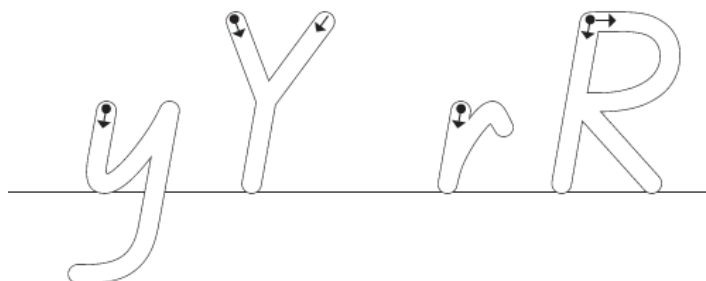

I am a long sound /yyyyy/.

My tongue is curled up and flexed right back.

My voice is on.

I am a long sound /rrrrr/.

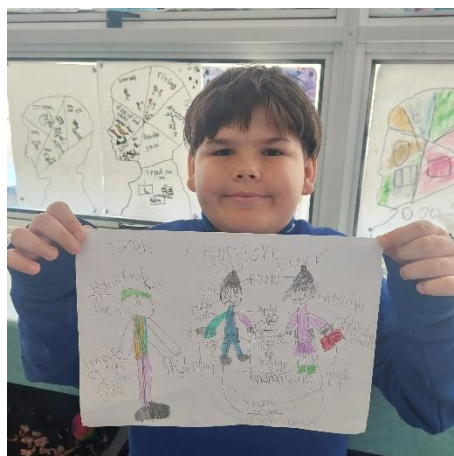

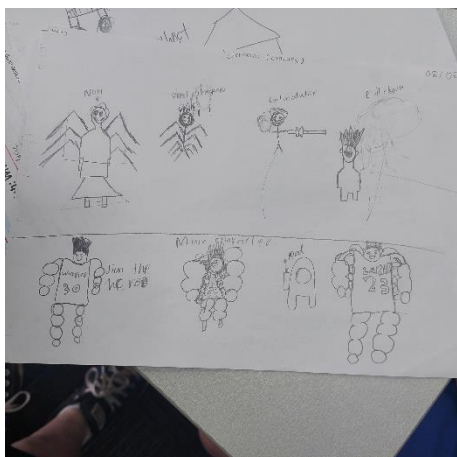

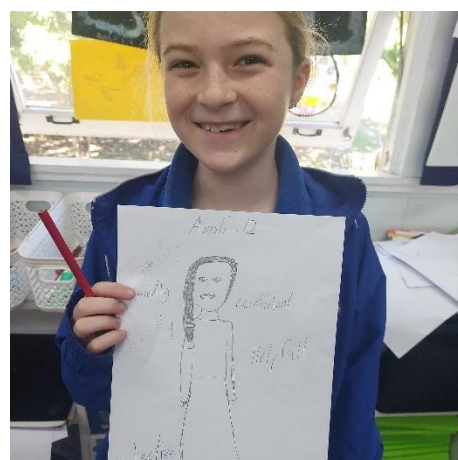

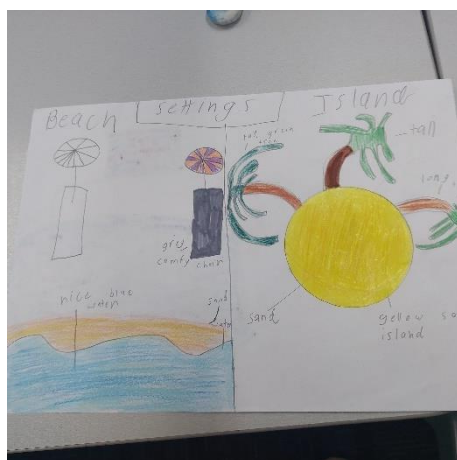

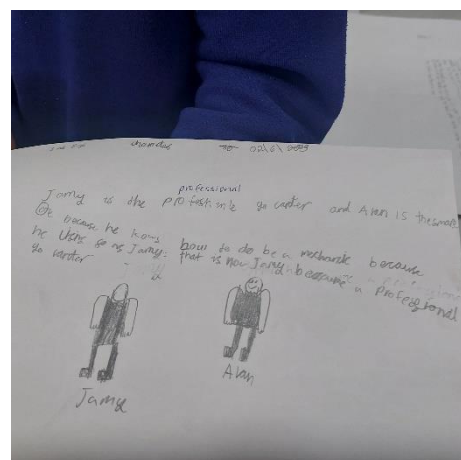

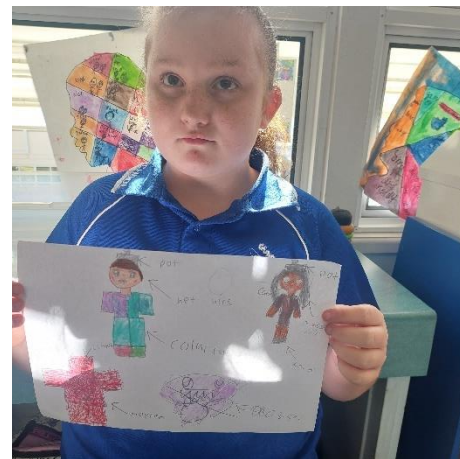

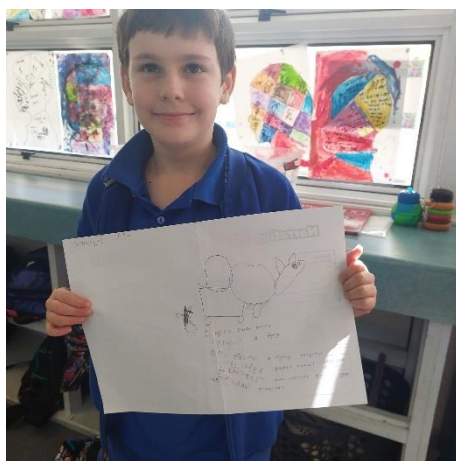

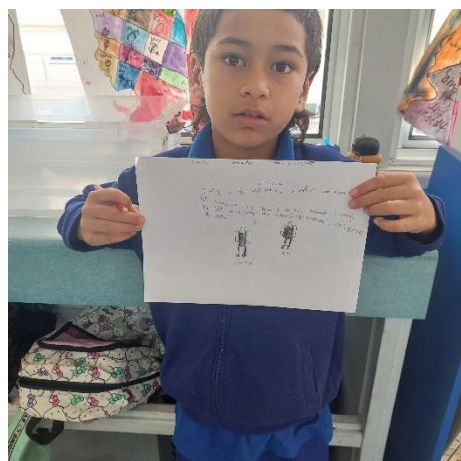

Don't forget to complete the consent form on Q Parents for LLLL Online – this will give your child access to beautiful decodable books assigned to them from their class teacher. If you are having difficulty, please call in to the office and we will help you get set up.

Around the Classes

4A

This term, 4A had to create a story using a historical stimulus. The students worked hard to plan settings and characters by drawing and describing them using a variety of language features.

Around the Classes

5B

During technology this term, the year 5's have been learning about engineering and bridge design. They have learnt about the different shapes and forces that provide supports to bridges. In order to learn about tension and compression forces, the year 5's have been practicing some partner balances and identifying where they can feel the tension and compression. They are looking forward to applying this knowledge to building their very own bridges for their assessment.

Around the Classes

This term saw Year 4 hold their EPP Markets, the students started with their trial market at the start of the term. After that the students analysed the success of their products, and they redesigned to produce items that appealed to a wider audience. The final markets were a huge success with the students selling out or coming close to selling out, they also presented their stalls professionally.
